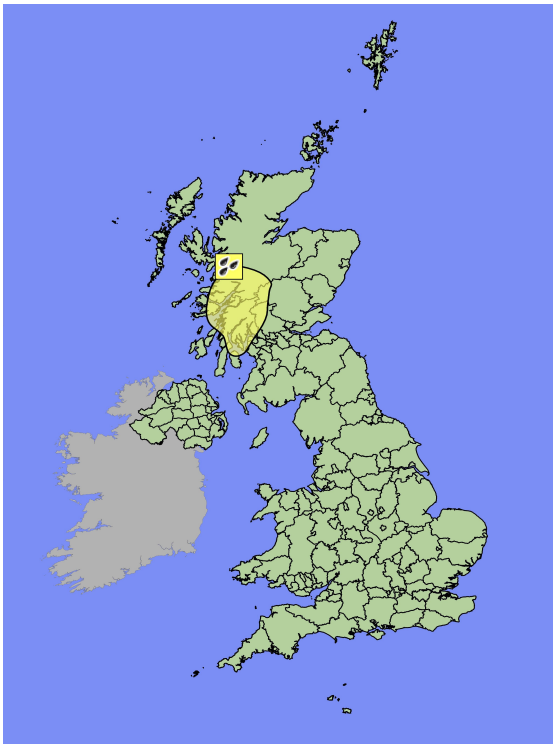
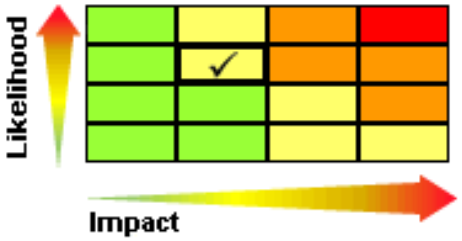
National Severe Weather Warning Service





CANCELLED

Chief Forecasters Assessment
Following rain on Monday, an active cold front will bring heavier and more persistent rain during Tuesday. The focus of the heaviest rain is likely to be further north than previous expectations, with 20-40 mm likely across much of Argyll and Lochaber, with peak totals of 50 mm in more mountainous areas.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 09:00 on Tue, 13th Nov 2012 until 23:59 on Tue, 13th Nov 2012

Outbreaks of rain will become persistent and heavy at times on Tuesday. Falling on already saturated ground, the public should be aware that this rain could lead to some localised disruption and the possibility of flooding.
